No. 180

SATURDAY, JAN. 19, 1901.

When trusts sell their goods at a cheaper price in foreign countries than they do at home there is something wrong with the Administration of affairs in the United States.

The common schools in the United States employ 400,000 teachers. Sixty per cent of these are women. The average wages paid to the men is $45.24 monthly; to the women, $38.14.

According to the latest reports, the total number of horses landed in South Africa by the British government since the beginning of the war was 117,740, and the number of mules 64,730; 5,689 horses and 1,997 mules were lost on the voyage.

The newspapers which have been throwing bouquets at the Administration because the Republican House of Representatives went on record in favor of doing away with the American saloon in the Philippines, will have to take them all back. By the decisive vote of 43 to 23 the Senate yesterday voted in favor of maintaining the saloons there. Senators Foraker and Hanna both voted in favor of the saloons. It remains to be seen what the Ohio Anti-Saloon League will do about the matter.

The Cleveland Leader consoles itself for the defeat of the anti-canteen proposition in Congress yesterday by the declaration that Congress should be bombarded with petitions, "for the Christian people of America can have from Congress whatever they earnestly and hopefully ask for." This does not speak well for the "earnest and hopeful" quality of the Leader's prayers, which for more than a fortnight have been sent to Congress by the carload in favor of "driving the whisky bottle from the Philippines." The bald fact is that the united prayers which "the Christian people of America" address to Congress have no weight when they come into collision with the wishes of any of the privileged interests that have paid for the favor of the administration.

STREET CAR

Left the Track and Wrecked a Building.

Motorman Seriously Injured and Passengers Were Hurt.

New Castle, Pa., Jan. 18.—(Spl.)—Snow on the tracks caused a street car to dash down the Pittsburgh st., hill this morning at a frightful rate of speed. The car left the track at the curve and crashed into the city building tearing out the brick corner and going half way through Show's store. Motorman John Hoke stuck to his post and was taken out from under the pile of stone and brick, seriously injured. Others badly injured were Lewis McCurdy, Stephen Allen and John Mitchell. Several of the ten passengers were cut and bruised but not seriously hurt.

Trooper Burch of Akron Belongs to the "Black Devils."

The Soldiers Are Thankful to Miss Helen Gould.

Miss Hattie Burch has received the following letter from her brother, Charles Burch, a trooper in the United States army in the Philippines:

Badoc, P. I., Nov. 26, 1900.
Dead Sister:
Having the evening to myself I will endeavor to spend it in writing.

November 7th an order came in while we were eating dinner for us to be in saddle and on our way to the mountains in half an hour. We were all ready in 15 minutes, 60 men from both troops with four officers. Our captain, Boughton, was in command. We arrived at the foot of the first range of mountains a little before dark, made camp, but were not allowed to build fires. Lieutenant Hediken, of B troop, took 30 men from each troop, marched us about one mile, where two trails met. One came down the mountains, and the other along the river. Here is where "Timbo" (general of the insurgents) and his men were supposed to pass. The American troops always have an advance guard in front of the main body, but the insurgents do not. They generally have four or five disarmed men two or three hundred yards ahead of them. We had two outposts. Their duty was to either capture the men or firing a shot, then fall back to where we were. We laid in ambush all night. Luck was against us, for nothing turned up. It is a very hard matter to catch them in a trap. Every move our army makes is known by the insurgents. We make a raid on a barrio twice a week, at least, in the middle of the night. The other night at 2 o'clock we made a raid on a barrio, where a Philippine officer lived. We arrived there about one hour before daybreak. B troop was to take the barrio, and I troop was stationed on the hill. They were to shoot all the Hombres that came their way. We surrounded most of the shacks. The shack where the officer lived had two windows. Four men were stationed at each window, while the police went in by the door. Suddenly a Humber jumped through the window knocking a couple of the fellows down. They soon recovered themselves, fired five shots after him, and he dropped with four bullets in him.

The trails are pony trails. We have to lie on top of our horse's backs so as to dodge the limbs and branches. Where the trails are too steep, we dismount and let them go through one at a time. He either rolls or slides down. A horse is out of luck here, though he gets the best of care. We have a lieutenant who don't believe in pushing the horses too fast. When he is in command we generally have to walk a portion of the way, he says "you can get a man for $15.00, but a horse costs $450, so we will treat them accordingly." The same officer refused a drink out of a tin cup, we had been drinking over the mountains on foot, following the niggers, where it was impossible to take our horses. We hadn't run across any water for quite a while. One of the men spied a spring, and there was a grand rush, a rush that would beat any foot ball team. We all forgot we were tired for a few minutes. Sergt. McKeng had a tin cup, and offered Lieut. Hediken a drink.

He never said thank you, but took off his hat and drank out of the rim of his hat. He is under obligations to no man. Capt. Boughton is just the opposite. He is always looking after the welfare of his men, though he is a terror on a hike. He burns everything in sight. If he finds any empty shack or if the women cannot give a good living high, as the boys call it. We account of where the men are, he puts the torch to the shacks. B troop has a nick name, the natives call us "Black Devils," and I don't blame the natives either. The other day we were sent out to ambush the insurgents at a certain trail, about 10 miles from Badoc. It didn't take us long. We passed through several barrios on a gallop. We also passed a trail of 25 carabaoes loaded with rice, going to market. The carabaoes broke away from the Hombres and started across a rice paddy with the Hombres after them. We have quite a number in the hospital sick with the fever. I have noticed the men who are sick were men who drank considerable in the States. I haven't had a day's sickness since I've been on the island, and don't intend to if I can help it. Fruit here is plentiful, but it is not like our fruit in the states. The only thing I have

MISS CLARA ARNDT

MISS ROSALIE T. TELLER

MISS VIRGINIA TOWNSEND

A GIRL'S BEST FRIEND IS HER MOTHER.
Kenosha, Wis., Nov. 15, 1900.
Gentlemen—Last spring I had a severe attack of jaundice with other complications, which laid me up for several weeks. I lost my appetite, became nervous and irritable, lost flesh and courage and found no relief. As the doctor's prescription did not help me another doctor, who advised her to try Warner's Safe Cure. She brought me a bottle and as that seemed to help me I tried another, and then another and inside of a month I was well and have enjoyed good health ever since. I gladly endorse your splendid medicine.
MISS CLARA ARNDT, Socy North Shore German Club.

BACKACHE AND HEADACHE CURED.
Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 9, 1900.
Gentlemen—Last spring I contracted a severe cold which I neglected, to my sorrow. It settled in my kidneys, producing inflammation, with severe backache and continual headache. We had a part of a bottle of Warner's Safe Cure in the house which my brother had been using and I tried it. To my surprise I began to mend very rapidly. I took a second bottle and a third and kept on improving until at the end of five weeks I was entirely well.
Your truly,
MISS ROSALIE T. TELLER, Socy Floral Club, 1148 Oakdale Ave.

RESTORED TO COMPLETE HEALTH.
Brooklyn, N. Y., Oct. 26, 1900.
Gentlemen—Warner's Safe Cure is the only medicine that could ever cure me. I was afflicted with female trouble brought on by being thrown from a carriage in a runaway in the fall of '98. I spent hundreds of dollars on doctors and medicines without relief, but Warner's Safe Cure restored me to health in two months. My general health is also improved and I would not be without it in my house for ten times its cost.
Accept hearty thanks from
Yours gratefully, VIRGINIA TOWNSEND.

One went in back of the ear and came out of his eye, one passed through his knee, the other two were in his back. He was crawling when the men came up. He was carried in, and is doing nicely. We expect him to live. He is lying side of the American soldiers in the hospital. These people are hard to kill. The fellows say they do not die. They only dry up and blow away. This man, who was shot, happened to be the fellow they have been after for over a year. Soldiering in the Philippines is much harder than in the States. A fellow does not have much time to himself, for he is generally on some kind of a hike, if not, he is on guard. If it wasn't for the excitement I don't know what the boys would do. I certainly enjoy it, but when you have to sit in a saddle 15 or 18 hours at a time without anything to eat, that's when the boys have a long face, although you never hear a murmur from them. It is almost impossible for a fellow to take care of himself on these hikes. No matter how long you are out, you always get wet, and as the rivers are deep, the horses have to swim them. About the time you are dry a cloud will burst. The trails are pony trails. We have to lie on top of our horse's backs so as to dodge the limbs and branches. Where the trails are too steep, we dismount and let them go through one at a time. He either rolls or slides down. A horse is out of luck here, though he gets the best of care.
